“ April Dawn, I remember the tender love your mother and father gave to you when you were a child. You gave that same kind of tender love to your own child. Nothing can replace the strong mother love you gave. But now you’re so suddenly gone. As your spirit guides him, take comfort that your father is stepping in with all he has to give, and your son is in gentle loving care. They both take comfort in knowing they will see you again some day.
